Timetable changes from 19 May 2003

From Monday 19 May 2003, some trains which serve London Fields will change their destinations and timings during the peak periods.

The nine trains affected will not go to and from Enfield Town, or call at all stations.

Instead they will run to and from Cheshunt, and call only at limited stations between Liverpool Street and Edmonton Green.

There are four affected trains to Liverpool Street in the morning and five from Liverpool Street in the evening, at half-hourly intervals and alternating with Enfield Town trains, so the current service of four trains per weekday peak hour calling at London Fields is still maintained.

Between London Fields and Liverpool Street the nine trains will run non-stop. They will not call at Cambridge Heath or Bethnal Green.

And between London Fields and Edmonton Green they will call only at Hackney Downs, Seven Sisters and Edmonton Green, then all stations to and from Cheshunt. This means passengers travelling to and from Rectory

Road, Stoke Newington, Stamford Hill, Bruce Grove, White Hart Lane, and Silver Street at those particular times will need to change at Hackney Downs and wait on the same platform for the next train – from Cheshunt in the morning, to Enfield Town in the evening – four minutes later.

In the morning these four trains to Liverpool Street will become limited-stop trains from Cheshunt:
